Castleberry Lions are 0-2 in District

The Castleberry High School football team entered their second district game with an overall record of 1-3. They faced a team with the same record of 1-3. However, their district opponent, Kennedale, had lost to some pretty good football teams: La Vega (35-28), Alvarado (47-7), and Dennison (21-3).

The Lions were coming off a disappointing 46-11 loss to cross-town rival Lake Worth. Meanwhile, the Wildcats were coming off their first victory of the season, a district opening defeat of Eastern Hills 38-6.

The Lions hosted the Wildcats on Friday, Sept. 29 at W.O. Barnes stadium. This game turned rather ugly pretty quickly for Lion fans. Kennedale took less than two minutes to score on their opening possession. Highlighted by an opening run of 45 yards by Wildcat quarterback, they took just four plays to score. A 7-yard touchdown run and point-after-touchdown gave Kennedale a 7-0 lead with 10:21 left in the first quarter. This was just the beginning of a nightmare of a first quarter for the Lions.

On Castleberry's first possession they gained one yard and were forced to punt. However, the punt snap was mishandled and scooped up by Kennedale and run in for a score. At the 9:02 mark of the first quarter it was 14-0.

The Lions responded to this quick deficit with a nice 10-play drive. But it ended when they failed to convert a 4th-and-two from the Wildcat 44-yard line. Kennedale took over on downs and took one play to score. A 55-yard touchdown run pushed the lead to 21-0 with 4:59 still left in the opening quarter.

Castleberry's next possession showed a little promise. On second-and-14, quarterback Demetrius Valadez (#7) completed a pass to freshman Brian Cenicerros (#16) for a 16-yard gain and a first down. However, on the next play CHS fumbled and it was recovered in mid air and returned for yet another Wildcat touchdown. With 4:18 left in the quarter the Kennedale lead stretched to 28-0. And the first quarter nightmare was not quite over. The Wildcats score more touchdown on an 18-yard run by their quarterback with 1:53 left in the quarter for a 35-0 lead.

As the quarter ended and the second quarter began, the Lions gained a couple of first downs. But then they were forced to punt. Their very poor punt gave the Wildcats great (continued on page 4) field position as they began the drive on their own 46-yard line. Kennedale followed with a 14-play drive. The drive ended with a 26-yard field goal by the Wildcats which pushed the lead to 38-0 with 4:37 left until halftime.

Castleberry began their next possession from their own 25-yard line. On first down, Valadez (#7) found his favorite target, junior Corbett Brown (#5). Brown managed to get behind the Kennedale secondary and Valadez connected with him on an exciting 75-yard touchdown. Kicker Chris Montoya (#23) connected on the point-after-touchdown. The Lions got on the scoreboard with 4:21 left in the first half but still trailed 38-7. This scored carried through to halftime.

The Lions received the second half opening kickoff. After picking up and initial first down the drive stalled and CHS was forced to punt. But the punt snap/catch problems continue to plague the Lions and they fumbled the snap which the Wildcats recovered on the Lions 30-yard line.

The CHS defense stepped up and appeared to hold the Wildcats to 43-yard field goal attempt which fell short. But unfortunately, the Lions committed a personal foul on the play which gave the ball back to Kennedale with a first down.

Three plays later, they scored a touchdown. Score 45-7 (7:02/third).

Kennedale closed out the scoring with another touchdown following a short drive. With 3:42 left in the third quarter the scored swelled to 52-7. The long night ended with that being the final score as neither team scored in the fourth quarter.

The Lions (1-4/0-2) will travel to Handley Field to take on Diamond-Hill (0-5/0-2).

The Eagles are really struggling through another miserable season, having lost their five games by a combined score of 287-19 (including being shut-out in four of their five games). Kickoff is at 7 p.m.

Five Weight Loss Tips For Busy Parents

For parents, juggling the demands of work and home life can no doubt take a toll on physical health. In fact, a Cornell University study of 50 working moms and dads found that more than half turned to unhealthy eating options – such as pizza and fast food, because they were too busy to start a new healthy eating plan.

Here are five tips to fall back into a healthier routine and conquer your weight loss goals:

Eat enough protein. Protein is the key to feeling full and satisfied, especially when you're trying to lose a few pounds.

Get moving with fun, 15-minute workouts. As a busy parent, finding time to exercise may not be top of mind. Committing to just 15 minutes daily will do wonders for your health and help you stay on track with your weight loss goals. Look for new and exciting workouts to try, such as Pilates, dance and boxing, so that you don't get tired of doing the same exercises.

You can also get the family involved. Go on an evening walk together or take all the boredom out of exercise and have a dance competition!

Stock your fridge with healthy, seasonal options. Fall is the perfect time to enjoy in-season fruits and vegetables. During the cooler months, you'll find mouth-watering produce like apples, squash, salad greens, broccoli and Brussels sprouts that will satisfy your tastebuds. If you like trying new things, consider beets. Low in calories and high in fiber, vitamin C and potassium, beets make a great vegetable to add to your grocery list.

Plan your menu for the week. You're busy, so opt for easy, convenient options. That's where planning your weekly menu using healthy and simple ingredients comes in. Make sure to include variety so you don't risk getting bored. If you find yourself saying, "I had this last week. I don't feel like having that again," you may find yourself ordering takeout.

Another option is to look for a service that will deliver nutritionally-balanced, portion-controlled meals to your door.

Prioritize yourself. Being a busy parent can be exciting, but it could also mean having difficulty prioritizing yourself. Write yourself encouraging daily reminders and hang them around your home and workplace. Set aside time to read a book before bed. Do yoga for 15 minutes in your living room to unwind. Finding something new you love – be it meditation, crafting or listening to a podcast – can motivate you to stay committed to yourself.

Utilizing these simple tips will help you balance your busy work and home life and guide you on your successful weight loss journey. If you slip up, don't harp on your mistake instead, forgive yourself and start again.

Democratic Congressman, Hatton W. Sumners by Dr. Ken Bridges

Texas has produced many powerful political figures in its long history. In the 1930s, Texas had one of the most influential congressional delegations in the nation, including Sen. Morris Sheppard, the Senate Minority Whip, House Speaker John Nance Garner, and other congressmen such as future House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Wright Patman.

Among those figures was Congressman Hatton Sumners of Dallas, a 34-year veteran of Congress and chairman of the House Judiciary Committee for 14 years, helping to shape the direction of the federal judiciary.

Hatton Sumners was born in 1875 on a farm in Lincoln County, Tennessee, on the border with Alabama. His father had been a Confederate officer during the Civil War, and his parents also operated a boarding school. When he was 19, the family moved to Texas, settling in Garland, then a tiny community of just over 500 residents a few miles from Dallas.

Sumners wanted to pursue higher education and was interested in a law career. However, money was tight; and there were few alternatives at the time. He went to the Dallas city attorney, Alfred Wozencraft, and explained his plight.

Impressed by Sumners, Wozencraft hired him to work at his law firm, allowing him to study the law at night and even sleep in the offices. By 1897, Sumners passed the bar exam and began his work as an attorney.

In 1900, he decided to run for Dallas County Attorney. Though only having practiced for three years, Sumners won easily and became county attorney at the age of 25. He made shutting down gambling in the county a priority, a crusade that he claimed led to his defeat in the 1902 primary. He was re-elected in 1904 and convinced the state legislature to push through a bill making running a gambling establishment a felony. He declined to run for a third term in 1906 and was named president of the state district attorney's association and spent the next few years running his own law firm.

In 1912, he was elected to Congress. He jumped into his work, quickly passing a bill to make Dallas a port of entry, easing the importation of products from abroad. Sumners was an enthusiastic supporter of the Federal Reserve Act to reform the nation's banking system. He was instrumental in bringing the regional Federal Reserve Bank to Dallas. The move solidified the position of Dallas as a major financial center in the state.

His congressional colleagues acknowledged his expertise on constitutional law and had him assigned to the House Judiciary Committee in 1919. He worked on a number of reforms to the federal judiciary, including changes to case loads and retirements. Though he supported a fair and transparent judiciary, he was often hostile to civil rights legislation, as were many southerners at the time.

Sumners became chairman of the House Judiciary Committee in 1932. As part of his committee work, he served as a House manager in the impeachment cases of three federal judges in their trials before the Senate. He also appeared as an attorney before the Supreme Court on several occasions to defend the interests of Congress in several cases. In 1934, as President Franklin D. Roosevelt prepared to grant independence to the Philippines, Sumners wrote a constitution for the islands.

In 1946, he announced his retirement after 17 terms in Congress. He enjoyed a quiet life upon his return to Dallas. He lived on the campus of Southern Methodist University for several years while working as the Director of Research in Law and Government for the Southwestern Legal Foundation.

In 1949, he established the Hatton Sumners Foundation to offer scholarships to aspiring students and grants for researchers.

He published a book outlining his ideas about government and the importance of the civic responsibilities of individuals in The Private Citizen and His Democracy in 1959.

He died quietly in 1962.
