Lady Bears to Face Northside in Post Season Opener

The Lady Bears softball team came up a little short in its regular season finale against Azle last Friday, but had already secured a playoff spot and will face FW Northside in the opening round of the post-season.

Brewer lost by score of 9-7 to the Lady Hornets, and coach Amye Guin said it was not for a lack of effort from her team.

"It was not the outcome we wanted versus Azle," Guin said. "Our girls fought till the last inning, we just came up short in some areas."

Some of the strong efforts in the game for the Lady Bears included Karlie Landrum (3-4, 3 runs, 1 RBI, 1 HR), Hannah Caldwell (3-4, 1 run, 3 RBIs, 1 HR) and Parker Pride (2-3).

"Blair shipman came in and threw a very good 3.1 innings only giving up one hit," Guin said. "We just needed to execute a bit better defensively."

Reflecting on the regular season as a whole, Guin said that her team had to overcome a lot of hurdles to accomplish what they did.

“Season wise, the team has fought through multiple injuries and have done well moving around positionally,” Guin said. “Our district as a whole was very good competition and we are looking forward to what the playoffs bring.”

Brewer will play Northside at a time and date to be determined in the bi-district round of the playoffs.

In track and field, Brewer had a solid showing at the area competition this past week, winning gold in the boy's triple jump event.

Desmond Watkins won the area championship with a result of 44-03.00 and teammate Jodan Clark finished third in the same event with a result of 43-07.50.

Ki Rendon finished second in the girl's 1600 meter run with a time of 5:17.87 and third in the 3200 meters with a time of 11:56.12.

Eryn McKinzie finished fourth in the girl's triple jump with a result of 34-10.50 and Jaycee Wheeler was fourth in the girl's discus with a throw of 114-04-00.

In baseball, Brewer lost to Northwest in both games this past week.

The Bears will try to finish out the regular season on a high note this week against Azle.

TAFB is Faced with Empty Shelves, Yet an Increase in Demand

The Tarrant Area Food Bank(TAFB) is facing a food shortage and a myriad of other factors, as it tries to rally support for communities in need in its 13-county service area, and there is little end in sight. Faced with empty shelves that are limiting distribution to their 450+ agency partners, TAFB is once again experiencing a perfect storm. Donations of food and money are down as donors shift attention from COVID-19 and food industry partners operate with drastically reduced surplus, from which the TAFB receives most of its supply. To close the supply gap, the Tarrant Area Food Bank has been purchasing food at historic, yet unsustainable levels. In the meantime, the food bank is distributing less foods to partner agencies and through mobile distributions.

“Our shelves in the distribution center at the Tarrant Area Food Bank are not stacked where they should be at this time of the year” said Julie Butner, President and CEO of the Tarrant Area Food Bank. “We need support now more than ever.”

Hunger increases during the summer due to children’s lack of access to school feeding programs. On top of this seasonal increase in the demand for food, record inflation, a reduction in SNAP benefits and loss of coverage in Medicaid benefits due to the end of government pandemic assistance programs has put a strain on consumers across the country and here in the Tarrant area.

Grocery prices continue to run at or near 12 percent over the previous year and wages have not kept pace. When families struggle, they first cut food budgets to pay for other necessities such as rent. As a result, the Tarrant Area Food Bank is distributing a record one million meals per week.

Never has the summer hunger campaign been so critical, and the hope is that the Tarrant Area Food Bank will be able to Serve Up Summer to hungry families through immediate public support by visiting www.tafb.org/donate.

First Monday Quilt Club - Project Linus Volunteers Needed

Come join the fun and fellowship with the Quilt Club volunteers while you make a difference in our community and bless others by making quilts for Project Linus.

The First Monday Quilt Club meets on the first Monday of each month at Bethany Christian Church located at 1500 Meadow Park Drive in White Settlement from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Instead of a potluck lunch, ladies are asked to bring brunch or snack items. Their next meeting is on Monday, May 1.

Project Linus is a non-profit service organization, and the members of this group are Tarrant County Chapter Project Linus volunteers who create handmade quilts and blankets that provide love, warmth, and comfort for local children who have suffered trauma, tragedy, or illness.

Volunteers also make coverlets for veterans, nursing home residents, and the homeless. Unfortunately, the need for these blankets increases each month. They desperately need volunteers with portable sewing machines to help assemble the quilts.

No experience is needed - there is a place for you. Anyone can help if you can follow instructions, sew, tie a knot, crochet a blanket, or tell a good joke. Volunteers have lots of fun and develop fantastic friendships.

High school students can receive community service credits for participating. Materials (fabric, batting, thread, and yarn) are provided. Donations of fabric, yarn, thread, sewing machines, sergers, or money to purchase materials are greatly appreciated.

For more information about the mission of Project Linus, visit the website at www.projectlinus.org.

For more information about the First Monday Quilt Club, call Virginia Biela at 817-244-1263.

Former Governor of Texas, James Throckmorton by Dr. Ken Bridges

James Throckmorton was a pioneer, doctor, lawyer, congressman, and governor. In spite of an impressive career, he often found himself caught between the great forces of history that were tearing the nation apart.

Throckmorton was born in 1825 in Sparta in central Tennessee. His father was a physician and moved often. Eventually, the Throckmortons made their way to Texas, and the family became early settlers of Collin County, settling not far from what is now Melissa in 1841 near the modern US Highway 75.

Throckmorton's father died in 1842, and he had to help care for his seven brothers and sisters. Later, he went to Kentucky to study medicine. He returned to Texas in 1847 when the Mexican War erupted and served as an army surgeon. After the war, he established a successful medical practice in Collin County and helped establish a private school in Mantua. However, he grew disenchanted with medicine and turned to law.

He served three terms in the Texas House of Representatives from 1851 to 1857. While in the legislature, he focused on education and railroad development, two causes that would mark his career. In 1857, Throckmorton rose to the state senate and allied with Sam Houston against the rising forces of secession in Texas. Throckmorton became a close advisor to Houston, now governor, as the Civil War loomed, but the election of Abraham Lincoln as president in 1860 prompted a wave of secession that engulfed Texas.

In 1861, he was a delegate to the secession convention and became one of only eight delegates to reject disunion. He remained close to Houston in the desperate weeks as Houston crossed the state pleading to save the Union. Because of their efforts, Collin, along with several counties along the Red River (including Fannin, Lamar, and Grayson), voted against secession in a February referendum. However, in the fevered atmosphere, most voted in favor of secession.

Throckmorton stepped forward and volunteered to defend Texas during the Civil War, rising from captain to general by 1864. In 1866, he chaired a convention of Unionists to draft a new constitution for the state, one that recognized the realities of the postwar South. The new constitution was ratified and Throckmorton was elected governor with 79 percent of the vote.

The war wrecked the state's economy and violence plagued both whites and freedmen alike. Texas contended with this chaos as Union troops attempted to re-establish order. Throckmorton attempted to rebuild the state, emphasizing new schools and railroads. While the slaves had been freed, the policy of the United States government was that giving the freedmen the vote and equality under the law was essential to preserving the freedoms of the former slaves. While Throckmorton accepted the end of slavery, giving African-Americans the vote was a step he could not take, and he clashed with federal officials. Barely a year after Throckmorton became governor, Gen. Philip Sheridan ordered him and other elected officials removed from their posts for opposing Reconstruction.

In 1872, his ban on holding office was lifted and he plotted his political comeback. He was elected to Congress in 1874 and re-elected in 1876. A respected figure, he was named Chairman on the Committee on Pacific Railroads in 1877, an important position as the railroads surged westward across the frontier. He soon moved for higher offices. In 1878, he ran for governor but lost the nomination. In 1881, he lost a bid for U. S. Senate. The next year, however, he ran for Congress and won easily.

In 1886, he announced his retirement and returned to Texas. He resumed his law practice in McKinney as his health declined. He died in 1894. Throckmorton remained widely respected in his community, with residents later naming a street after him and erecting a statue in his honor.
