Brewer Basketball Boys Open Playoffs

The Brewer boy's basketball team wrapped up the regular season on a high note last Tuesday, defeating the Wichita Falls Rider by a score of 71-49.

Coach Jason Porostovsky said it was a good all-around effort from his team and a great way to finish up the district season.

"We shot the ball extremely well, making 12 three-pointers," Porostovsky said. "Our defense picked up in the second quarter, holding Rider to 4 points and opening up the lead going into half 41-19, from there we just held that spot while Rider continued to battle, but we never allowed the game to tighten up."

Julian Perez led the way for Brewer with 19 points in the game, while Warren King added 14 and Tyren Mitchell finished the game with 10 points.

The Bears opened the playoffs on Tuesday night against FW Wyatt after the paper had already gone to press, and Porostovsky said he was pleased with the level at which his team was playing.

"We are excited to get going," Porostovsky said. "This week between games turns into a grind, but we have had good practices at this point, and we are ready to play."

On the girl's side, the season came to an end last week in the area round following a 41-35 loss to Colleyville Heritage.

This came after a bi-district round victory against FW Southwest.

The Lady Bears finished the season with a 29-5 overall record and ranked 12th in the state among 5A girl's programs.

On the pitch, the Brewer boy's soccer team continued it's winning ways with a 5-1 victory over Azle on Friday night.

Noe Jimenez led the team in scoring with a hat trick for the Bears, while Guadalupe Diaz and Kenneth Rodriguez scored a goal a piece.

On the girl's side, Brewer lost to Azle by a score of 1-0 on Friday night.

Obituary

Donald Wesley Grannan

Chief Master Sergeant Donald Wesley Grannan, US Air Force (Ret), a devoted patriot, loving husband, and pillar of his community, passed away peacefully at home with his family at his side, on Feb. 16, 2024, in Benbrook, Texas. He was 93 years old.

Born in Princeton, Indiana, in 1930, Don dedicated 30 years of his life to the United States Air Force, with deployments around the world through the Korean and Vietnam Wars and the Cold War. His unwavering commitment to duty and honor earned him the respect of his peers and the admiration of those he led. After retiring from the Air Force, he continued his service in the defense industry, where he eventually retired from Lockheed-Martin. Don loved his country and proudly waved the flag and honored those who served alongside him. For more than 70 years, he was an active member of the American Legion Post 297 and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 10429, where his patriotism was a testament to his deep-rooted belief in the American principles of freedom and justice.

Don was a member of St. Peter the Apostle Catholic Church in Fort Worth, where he found solace and strength in his faith which guided him throughout his life. His love for God was evident in his actions, kindness, and compassion toward others. He was a longtime member of the General Worth Assembly of the Knights of Columbus, where his leadership as a past Faithful Navigator exemplified his dedication to faith, community, and service.

He is survived by his wife of more than 45 years, Laurel Kay Grannan (Hayes). Together, they raised a beautiful family, a legacy that lives on through his seven children; Sharon Marie Kuehner, Linda Kathleen Grannan, Donna June Grannan, Kyle Joseph Grannan, Kevin Wesley Grannan, Gary Owen Grannan, and Donald Richard Grannan; five stepchildren; Michael Roy Pritchard, Patrick Odell Pritchard, Timothy Wayne Pritchard, Terry Edward Pritchard, and Shawn William Pritchard; and 32 grandchildren, 34 great-grandchildren, and 9 great-great-grandchildren. Additionally, he was known as “Grandpa” to countless other friends and neighbors, too numerous to count; and was deeply loved by all who knew him. Don cherished his role as a husband, father, and grandfather. His family brought him immense joy and he relished every moment spent with them.

Friends, family, and community members are invited to pay their respects during the viewing at St. Peter the Apostle Catholic Church, 1201 S Cherry Lane, White Settlement, TX, on Friday, Feb. 23, at 10 a.m., with funeral service at 11 a.m. Immediately following the service, Don will be laid to rest at Laurel Land Cemetery at 7100 Crowley Rd, Fort Worth, TX. A Celebration of Life will be held after the burial, at American Legion Post 297, 8201 Old Benbrook Road, Benbrook, TX.

American Officer - General William Jenkins Worth

The City of Fort Worth, a beloved Texas city sometimes known as “Cowtown” or “Where the West Begins,” has a storied past that has helped shape the history of the state. However, the name behind the city was a legend in its own right. Gen. William Jenkins Worth was a distinguished officer and war hero who fought for the Texas and the nation.

Worth was born in the small community of Hudson, New York, in 1794. His parents were devout Quakers, and his father made a comfortable living as a merchant ship captain. When the War of 1812 erupted, the younger Worth enlisted in the army. Though Quakers are typically pacifists, Worth nevertheless decided for a life of adventure and service to the country in the army.

Worth earned a commission as a first lieutenant in March 1813 and was immediately assigned to serve as an aide to Gen. Winfield Scott. Scott became an important mentor and close friend as the two spent years together serving the nation. Worth fought in a number of fierce battles against the British as American forces pushed into British territory in Canada. At the Battle of Lundy’s Lane in July 1814, he and Scott were both wounded in what was the bloodiest battle of the war. Worth’s leg injury almost proved fatal, and he never fully regained use of the leg.

However, Worth was still determined to serve in the army. So impressed with his bravery and determination, he was named Commandant of Cadets at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point in 1816 as a major. As commandant, Worth instilled the lessons of duty and honor into the aspiring young officers. He taught the importance of never excusing a dishonorable act in another officer and the necessity of integrity in all matters, to keep one’s word no matter what. His essays on honor are still required reading for West Point cadets.

In 1838, he was promoted to colonel and given command of an infantry regiment. He fought in the Second Seminole War in Florida as tribes and settlers clashed. He was promoted to brigadier general afterward.

After Texas was admitted in 1845, Mexico threatened war with the United States over its former possession. Worth was assigned to patrol the border with Gen. Zachary Taylor when war erupted in mid-1846. He negotiated the surrender of the Mexican city of Matamoros in September and pushed his forces steadily southward toward the capital. After another year of heavy fighting, Worth and his men swept aside the last defenses of Mexico City with the victory at Chapultepec. Worth himself was commended for his bravery in this battle. When Mexico City was captured, Worth personally replaced the Mexican flag with the American flag at the Capitol building.

After the end of the Mexican War, Worth was given command of the army’s Department of Texas in 1848. He realized that fighting between settlers and frontier tribes would continue and devised a system of protecting the Texas frontier. This plan materialized in a string of forts acting as a barrier between tribal lands and the farms and towns settlers of Central and North Texas. Though 10 forts were planned between Eagle Pass on the Rio Grande and the Trinity River, only seven were built, including Fort Graham, Fort Duncan, and Fort Lincoln.

In the spring of 1849, as Worth’s career continued to ascend, San Antonio was struck by a deadly cholera epidemic. Worth contracted the disease and died at the age of 55. Gen. William Harney then ordered that the last fort, near the Trinity River, be named in honor of Worth as Fort Worth. The City of Fort Worth would be incorporated in 1874.

Worth was later buried in a tomb at what is now Worth Square in New York City, where a street is also named for him. Several other cities and counties were later named for him. Lake Worth, a small Texas suburb nestled next to Fort Worth, is also named for the famed general and is a thriving community of around 5,000 residents.

Worth’s most famous namesake, Fort Worth, is now the fifth largest city in Texas with more than 920,000 residents.

Romance Scams on the Rise - Elderly are Particularly Vulnerable

They say, “you can’t buy love,” but scammers have figured out a way to exploit it for profit.

Romance scams are at an all-time high and, while victims cross all demographics, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) reports that elders are increasingly targeted. Why? Because they often have retirement savings at their disposal and may be more isolated and less tech savvy.

“Romance scammers often manipulate emotions to gain trust,” says Mark Kwapiszeski, head of enterprise fraud for PNC. “Those who fall victim end up putting feelings above logic. This can create embarrassment and, as a result, these crimes are less likely to be reported.”

Scammers will create convincing profiles on dating and social media apps, reaching out to their target feigning familiarity or attraction. Things move quickly, but there is always a reason they can’t meet on video or in person. They may claim to have a reason that requires them to be overseas or out of reach. They tell their target everything they want to hear, and the hook is set.

Suddenly, a crisis arises that they insist they need help financial help with to mitigate. Or maybe they need finances to set up a new life together. They ask for the money, but would prefer it be sent in a form like cryptocurrency or gift card where there is little chance of the victim ever recovering it.

Such scams are highly effective. In 2022 alone, romance scams resulted in $1.3 billion lost, more than double the money lost in the previous year, according to the FTC.

To add insult to injury, scammers may convince their target to send them revealing photos they will later use to extort them. They may even play the long game and build trust over time, then convince their target to invest with them, without the victim ever getting any return.

“A romance scammer can invest a long time in cultivating trust, which makes these scams particularly nefarious,” Kwapiszeski says.

To protect against potential romance scams, follow these tips:

- Before sending money or sharing financial information, consult a friend or family member. Simply talking to someone not involved in the situation is often enough to identify red flags.
- Trust your gut. If something seems too good to be true, it probably is.
- Beware of “love bombing,” when a person lavishes you with excessive flattery, affection and praise early in the relationship to manipulate your emotions.
- Be wary of strangers reaching out on social media.
- If you like someone, ask for a quick video chat. If they refuse or make up outlandish excuses, that’s a red flag.
- Stay alert to photos or biographical details that don’t match up with what someone’s told you.
- Use image and name-reverse searches to validate the identity of people you meet online.
- Never send intimate photos to strangers or invest without doing your due diligence.
- Confide in family and friends if you grow suspicious.

Elders have lost homes, emptied out retirement accounts and risked lifetime savings for a love interest that never truly existed. Once the shock abates and the money is gone, the shame sets in and some have even resorted to self-harm instead of admitting to being defrauded in this way. If a loved one falls victim to a romance scam, it’s important to respond with empathy.

If you believe you or someone you love has been a victim of fraud, PNC Bank’s web resources, as part of its Security and Privacy Center (pnc.com), can help. After taking immediate measures to protect yourself, block the scammer on all accounts, change your passwords, and report the incident to the FTC and FBI.

The best line of defense against romance scams is awareness. Understanding common tactics can help you stay protected.
