Brewer Bear Athlete Spotlight: Rayanne Lomboto

Rayanne Lomboto made an impact whenever he was on the court for the Brewer boy's basketball team this past season.

Coach Jason Porostovsky said Lomboto will be playing a much bigger role in 2024.

"Rayanne is a tremendous athlete, one of the best that I have coached since I have been at Brewer," Porostovsky said. "He is a high flier off of one foot. Rayanne also brings a lot of energy and enthusiasm to the team."

Lomboto did not play a lot of minutes in 2023, but Porostovsky said the incoming senior did make the most of the time he saw.

"Rayanne is way too talented to keep off the floor," Porostovsky said. "This year we will need him to fill many roles. With his athleticism, he should be a lock down defender as well as a great offensive rebounder."

Lomboto, 17, said that he was pleased with his efforts this past season when he came into the game.

"My goals coming into the season were to make a impact and I feel like I made a good impact with the minutes it got," Lomboto said.

The Brewer forward, who loves soccer and is a big Liverpool FC supporter, said he embraces the idea of doing whatever is necessary to help the Bears win games in 2024.

"My feeling about my new role on the team is that the role fits my play style and will give me a very big chunk of the action, which is what I love," Lomboto said.

Lomboto, who also runs track at Brewer, said his happiest moment of the season came against a district rival in a pivotal game.

"We played Aledo at home and we blew them out for the district championship," Lomboto said. "It was such a fun day."

For 2024, Lomboto said he has two expectations.

"My objectives for next season are to win the district championship for the fourth year in a row and make it past the second round of the playoffs," Lomboto said.

Porostovsky said that will all start by getting Lomboto more playing time.

"Rayanne will be a senior next and has really started to mature on and off the court,” Porostovsky said. “We have to find ways to get Rayanne on the court as he brings so many intangibles to the game.”

The Brewer coach the off season is an important time for his incoming senior.

“This summer, we are really focusing on Rayanne’s overall skill level, mainly on his shooting ability,” Porostovsky said. “We are also working hard on his basketball IQ and decision making. We are starting to see a lot of progress mainly because Rayanne has decided to buy in to the program.”

Tips to Make Summer Safer for Anyone Riding a Bicycle

Bikes have been the mode of summer transportation for children and teenagers for decades. They allow them to independently move around without a car. Summer has begun, and with that comes more children and teens on their bikes on neighborhood streets and trails.

It is important for children and teens to have proper knowledge about bike safety to ensure a fun and memorable summer.

Bike safety is important for riders of all ages. Here are some tips to help North Texans have an active, fulfilling and safe summer on bikes:

- Obey traffic signals and stop signs at intersections.
- Use hand signals when turning, changing lanes or stopping.
- Be aware of your surroundings and don't wear ear buds.
- Ride as far to the right as practicable without jeopardizing your safety.
- Always ride in the same direction as traffic.
- Claim space at intersections by riding in the rightmost lane going in your destination direction and position yourself at intersections to be seen by drivers.
- Be visible, especially at night. Turn on your front and rear bike lights and wear bright or reflective clothing.

In addition to the tips mentioned above, there are other ways to increase safety. Make sure children and teens know how to check their brakes, tire pressure, and how to inflate tires to their recommended pressure. Additionally, always send children and teens out with a water bottle (or two!).

In Texas, dehydration can happen quickly. Remember that the combination of cycling and the sun will cause everyone to have to drink more water to remain safe.

And share it with others. Your actions may inspire your friends or colleagues to become part of the solution.

Be sure to use #CAAD2023 and tag @NCTCOGtrans on social media to show your commitment to clean air in your community. # Invicta Mental Health Services Offers Counseling to Students, Families and Faculty

Introducing Invicta Mental Health Services

White Settlement ISD is proud to partner with Invicta Services Group to provide mental health counseling services to our district's students, families, and faculty.

Invicta provides traditional mental health services on campus to support those struggling with issues such as anxiety, depression, anger management, eating disorders, trauma, concentration, self-esteem, and academic stress.

How It Works

Invicta Counseling offers the same licensed therapists that you would expect to see at most clinics, but they bring the service directly to our school campus!

This on-campus approach minimizes the time away from class and mitigates the parent's time away from work. Some students may require multiple sessions, and the Invicta staff will coordinate that effort directly with the parents.

Flexible and immediate appointments are available at each school campus with extended hours and evening appointments at some locations, including the WSISD Family Resource Center, located at 8500 Rockway Drive.

How to Register

Register for Counseling Services at <https://invictaservices.clientsecure.me>.

Select your school location and the preferred time slot for your appointment.

The registration site includes a parental consent form as well as insurance information. You can also find registration forms at your campus. Please complete and return your forms to the school counseling office.

Clients can conveniently and discretely request an appointment using the mobile application, web address or QR Code.

Mental Health Coverage

Invicta believes that every student should have access to mental wellness. Invicta collects the student's insurance information and seamlessly files insurance for the visit.

For students without insurance coverage, Invicta will work directly with you to file for uninsured coverage.

Contact resilience@invicta-3.com for specific billing and coverage questions.

Former Governor of Texas, Joseph D. Sayers by Dr. Ken Bridges

Adversity, it is said, is the truest test of character. When times are flush and problems scarce, few will have to find a way to rise to the occasion when the occasion has risen for them. Gov. Joseph Sayers was a man who faced many crises in his life and faced even greater crises as governor as the state weathered a number of natural disasters. Even in the face of disaster, Sayers found ways to pave a path forward for Texas.

Joseph Draper Sayers was born in Granada, in northern Mississippi, in 1841. It was a family of farmers, as most families were at that time. Tragedy befell the family while he was still young. His mother died in 1851; and as a result, his distraught father moved him and his younger brother to Texas to start over. Eventually, the family settled in the Bastrop area, and the two brothers both attended the Bastrop Military Institute.

When the Civil War erupted, he and his brother both enlisted in the Confederate army. As it turned out, Sayers would become one of the last Civil War veterans to serve as Texas governor. He served in the 5th Texas Cavalry and was noted for his bravery in actions in New Mexico and Louisiana. The war put his life in danger often, but he pressed on in the face of steadily advancing Union armies. He was twice wounded in combat and rose to the rank of major before the Confederate surrender in 1865.

After returning to Bastrop, Sayers decided not to live a life of bitterness and regret but instead chose to give back to the community and build a future. Though Sayers never attended college himself, he nevertheless continued his own education and worked to bring opportunities to others. He opened a school in Bastrop and began studying law at night. Within a year, he gained admission to the state bar and began practicing law.

In 1872, Sayers was elected to the state senate and steadily moved up the political ladder. He would go on to serve as chairman of the State Democratic Committee; and in 1878, he was elected lieutenant governor. He was elected to the first of seven terms in Congress in 1884, eventually rising to chair the House Appropriations Committee for the 1893-1894 term, one of the most coveted and respected positions in Congress. In 1898, he was elected as the state's twenty-second governor.

In the spring of 1899, Texas faced major flooding as spring rains relentlessly soaked the state. The Brazos River overflowed its banks, causing many people to flee for their lives. Sayers stepped forward immediately to make sure state authorities helped those in danger and later helped those rebuild.

In 1900, Galveston was devastated by the deadliest hurricane in American History when more than 6,000 people died. Sayers immediately dispatched food, medicine, and state personnel to the devastated city to help survivors in the face of impending starvation, disease, and riots. Impressed with his response to these disasters and management of the state, voters re-elected Sayers in 1900.

He advocated a number of reforms as governor, most concentrating on anti-trust laws. He worked to ban railroad rebates to preferred customers, insisting customers be treated equally.

Labor unions were exempted from anti-trust laws as they had become targets of many early anti-trust lawsuits. He also worked to expand education funding.
