For the first time ever, the Brewer High School TARC team competed in The American Rocketry Challenge. Students competed against nearly 800 teams across the country. BHS is among 100 finalists that qualified for nationals.

TARC members Garrett Bradshaw, Jay Patel, Aiden Weeks, Matthew Drake, Larisa Santos, Sydney Kaspar and Emily Willis will advance to nationals in The Plains, Va., on May 20. Their advisor is teacher Tommy Bowers.

Students must design, build and fly a rocket that carries an egg; reaches a designated altitude; and splits in two, with both pieces landing with separate parachutes.

Congratulations to the Brewer High School TARC Engineering team!

FWDP Monthly Meeting May 15

Amelia Earhart Award Presented to Local Resident

The Fort Worth Decorative Painters next monthly meeting will be held on Monday, May 15 at the Fort Worth Botanic Garden Center, 3220 Botanic Garden Blvd in Fort Worth.

Beth Stodieck will instruct a Harvest Blessing project.

For more information contact Suzane at 817-269-2821 or visit the website at www.fwdecorativepainters.com.

Cadet Captain Jeffrey Wood of the Civil Air Patrol's Tx-388 Phoenix Composite Squadron was presented with the Amelia Earhart Award at a CAP meeting on March 27 held at the Fort Worth Aviation Museum.

Achievement of this award requires successful completion of extensive leadership and aerospace exams, a rigorous physical fitness test and demonstration of leadership abilities including principles of officer-ship and the responsibilities of command. Approximately five percent of cadets nationwide earn the Amelia Earhart Award.

Making the presentation were squadron commander, Captain Roman Vitanza, and retired Air Force Colonel Ken Bachelor.

After the presentation, Colonel Bachelor spoke to the cadets about his service in the Air Force and encouraged them to always pursue their dreams no matter what others may say.

Cadet Wood serves as the Phoenix Squadron's Cadet Deputy Commander of Operations. He also serves as Vice-Chair on the CAP Group VI Cadet Advisory Council where cadets work with Senior members to improve aspects of the Cadet Program.

Wood attended WSISD Fine Arts Academy from kindergarten through sixth grade before transferring to High Point Academy where he is currently a senior. After graduating this spring, his plan is to enlist in the U.S. Air Force and train in Aircraft Maintenance.

The Civil Air Patrol, the official civilian auxiliary of the Air Force, was established over 70 years ago with a three-pronged mission, to conduct search-and-rescue and disaster-relief operations, provide aerospace education to youth and the general public and operate a cadet program for teens 12 to 18 years old.

The Phoenix Composite Squadron meets weekly on Monday evenings 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Fort Worth Aviation Museum located at 3300 Ross Avenue, Fort Worth, 76106.

Bears Fall to Hornets in Season Finale; Lady Bears Best Northside to Advance in Post Season

The 2023 campaign came to an end for the Brewer baseball team on Friday night following a loss in its season finale to Azle.

Despite being swept in last week's two-game series against the Hornets, coach Gilbert Ramirez said he was pleased with one aspect of his team's effort.

"I thought our starting pitchers did an outstanding job," Ramirez said.

The Bears did have a couple of stand out performances in the series including Trey Ramirez (6IP, 1H, 1BB, 1R, 7Ks), Andrew Morales (6IP, 3H, 1ER, 5Ks) and Jacob Alvarado (hit .400 in the series).

Brewer was not able to clinch one of the playoffs spots in district 5-5A this season, but Ramirez said that his team his team never gave up and added that Brewer has a lot of reasons to be optimistic about the future.

"I'm proud of how our players fought until the last out of the year," Ramirez said. "We have been able to increase our win totals in each of the last two years and look to continue doing that again next year. We only graduate three seniors and have several players that played on the JV that will be major contributors to our varsity next year."

In softball, Brewer played FW Northside this past weekend in a two-game series for the bi-district round of the playoffs.

Brewer defeated Northside in two straight games, beating the Steers by scores of 15-6 on Friday night and following that up with an 11-1 victory on Saturday.

The Lady Bears will face Colleyville Heritage in the area round on Friday, May 5 at L.D. Bell High School, located at 1601 Brown Trail, Hurst, TX 76054.

In track and field, Brewer had multiple athletes advance to the regional meet this past week.

Ki Rendon finished third in the 1600 meter run with a time of 5:23.01 and fourth in the 3200 meter event with a time of 12:02.45.

The girls 4X400 team finished 12th overall with a time of 4:17.01 and Eryn McKinzie was 14th in the triple jump with a result of 34-06.00.

Jaycee Wheeler finished 13th in the girl's discus event with a toss of 105-10.00.

On the boy's side, Desmond Watkins finished fifth at region in the triple jump event with a result of 46-07.50, while teammate Jodan Clark was 13th with a result of 42.00-50.

Top Tips to Win a College Scholarship

More than half of American families used scholarships to pay for college last year. From merit-based to artistic-focused, there are a variety of awards available.

High school senior Grace Vaughn of Trinity, Florida, knows how to successfully secure a college scholarship. After winning the $10,000 dress grand prize in Duck brand's Stuck at Prom Scholarship Contest in 2022, Vaughn is sharing helpful tips to increase students' odds of earning funds for college:

Research, research, research

Search databases and websites to discover award options that may be new to you. Scholarships.com, FastWeb and Bold.org are resources to help narrow down opportunities that match your interests and unique talents. Vaughn also encourages students to leverage social media.

In addition to researching national opportunities, check in with your school counselor and teachers to learn about any local or regional scholarships that are offered through the school or other nearby organizations.

Apply early and often

Federal Student Aid recommends searching for scholarships during the summer between your junior and senior year, but some awards are open to teens as young as 14. Vaughn says entering Stuck at Prom early on in high school gave her an edge on the competition. When she wasn't selected as a finalist her sophomore year, Vaughn submitted for the contest again as a junior and went on to win the $10,000 dress grand prize.

"When I began working on my entry in 2022, I already knew how to construct the dress from Duck Tape, so I went into the process with confidence," Vaughn explains.

If you have the time and energy, she suggests applying for multiple awards to increase your chances of securing funds for school.

Leverage your creative side

Not all programs are focused on academics and athletics, so flex your creative side to win scholarships that will reward artistic abilities in drawing, painting, music and more. Beginning at an early age, Vaughn excelled at visual arts and design, which is how she knew Stuck at Prom was a perfect fit for her.

"Creative awards programs are a good outlet for students to show off their talents outside of typical schoolwork," Vaughn says. "Even if you aren't crafty, scholarship applications could be a chance for you to try something new."

Make scholarships a priority

Vaughn spent 143 hours crafting her prom dress made from Duck Tape to enter Stuck at Prom.

While not all scholarship program submissions will take 143 hours or require making Duck Tape attire, Vaughn says it's important to block off areas on your calendar so you can balance busy school schedules and extracurricular activities along with applications—ensuring there's enough time to work on a polished entry, whether it's creating a piece of art or writing an essay.

While applying for scholarships is time consuming, it can make a huge impact when it comes to paying for college.

Award Winning Author, Elmer Kelton by Dr. Ken Bridges

As many writers have noted, writing is the painting of a picture in another person's mind using only words. The magnificent scenery of Texas has inspired many artists and writers through the years, and the backdrop of overwhelming beauty and sometimes larger-than-life characters has often been the spark needed for a great story.

Elmer Kelton, a son of the dusty plains of West Texas, wove these elements into famous, award-winning tales of the Old West and became one of the most famous novelists in the nation.

Elmer Kelton was born in a ranch camp in eastern Andrews County simply called Horse Camp on the Five Wells Ranch in 1926. His father, Robert W. "Buck" Kelton, was a ranch hand, a man respected for his work ethic as he tried to scratch out a living for his family.

In 1929, the family moved to the small town of Crane, not far from Midland, when he father got a job with the McElroy Ranch. Sometimes the younger Kelton would work alongside his father when he was not in school. In 1942, he graduated from Crane High School.

Because he was barely 16 when he graduated in the midst of World War II, he could not enlist in the army like so many young men of the time were doing. Instead, he attended the University of Texas for a couple of years while studying journalism. After his eighteenth birthday in 1944, he enlisted in the army, serving in the infantry in Europe. Once his tour of duty ended in 1946, he returned to Austin and graduated from the university with his journalism degree in 1948.

He quickly found a job as the farm and ranch editor for the San Angelo Standard-Times. He was a popular writer and enjoyed his work. Along the way, he started writing novels about the Old West. His first, Hot Iron, was published in 1956. In 1957, Buffalo Wagons won a Spur Award from the Western Writers of America.

He produced new books at a rapid rate. Kelton even wrote for two popular television westerns. In 1958, he wrote an episode for the program Colt .45 and wrote a 1960 episode of Maverick starring James Garner.

In 1963, he became editor of Sheep and Goat Raiser Magazine, a position he held until 1968. Continuing to write novels on the side, he then became editor of Livestock Weekly. He would soon publish two more widely-acclaimed novels, "The Day the Cowboys Quit" (1971) and "The Time It Never Rained" (1973). In 1977, though his writing career had yet to reach its peak, he earned the Owen Wister Award for Lifetime Achievement from the Western Writers of America.

In 1979, "The Good Old Boys" was published. The novel centered on a middle-aged cowboy struggling with raising his family while pining for the adventure of life on the frontier. The book was made into television movie in 1995 and featured Tommy Lee Jones, Sam Shepard, and Sissy Spacek.

Though he steadily achieved fame for his novels, he continued to work for Livestock Weekly until 1990. His next-to-last novel, "Many A River", was published in 2009. Kelton earned his eighth Spur Award for the work.

He worked until the end. Kelton died quietly at his home in San Angelo in 2009 at the age of 83. He had just completed his sixty-second book, "Texas Standoff", which was released after his death. He was celebrated for his many achievements as a writer.

Today, years after his passing, his novels still have many fans.
