Bears and Lady Bears Looking for Wins After Losses to Northwest

Brewer lost their district opener to Northwest by a score of 37-7 on Friday night, but coach Jason Wheeler said he sees reasons to be optimistic.

"We started off wanting to take some chances in the kicking game and on the offensive side of the ball as well, wanting to be aggressive," Wheeler said. "It didn't work out, but our defense was able to give our offense the ball back even though we took those chances. But the kids fought, and I don't believe there was ever a point where the kids quit playing. We're young, but we continue to take steps forward."

Jaden Garrett scored the Bears only touchdown of the night on a 2-yard run in the third quarter.

Brewer will play at 7 p.m. on Sept. 23 at Azle, and Wheeler said he expects his team to be in for a battle.

"This is my fifth year, and this is always a well-contested, hard-fought rivalry game," Wheeler said. "Both teams want to beat each other and neither wants to take a back seat to the other. So I expect a game with a lot of grit and for both teams to get after it."

On the volleyball court, the Lady Bears lost to Northwest 3-0 last Friday, and coach Jill Barkey said Northwest has a good program.

"They were tough," Barkey said. "We knew they would be. We played really well in the second and third sets. It took us a minute to play up to our competition."

Barkey said she had she had a couple of stand out performances in the game.

"Ashlynn Gehring played a very smart match," Barkey said. "And once we sped up our offense her and KP Pospech, our setter, made a nice duo."

Brewer will play at 5:30 p.m. tomorrow night at Aledo, and Barkey said her team needs to stick to the game plan.

"If we'll play up to our competition, I think we'll do well against them," Barkey said.

On the trails, Brewer competed in the Mansfield Legacy Invitational this past weekend.

Augustus Weir was the top runner on the boy's side with a time of 17:30.86 in the 5,000 meter run.

On the girl's side, Ki Rendon was the top runner with a time of 20:26.63.

Hello Fellow District 99 Residents,

My name is Mimi Coffey and I am running to be your State Representative. I have spent most of my entire life in District 99. I have raised my 4 children here. As a defense attorney of 27 years, I am used to fighting uphill battles and negotiating. I will fight hard for the needs of our northwest Tarrant County residents.

Our property taxes are too high. Women's reproductive rights have been taken away. Our public schools are in a crisis with a shortage of teachers. It is getting harder for the majority of northwest Texans to make ends meet with rising costs. As a small business owner of 22 years, I know what it takes to run a successful business and take care of your people. The pandemic has taught us that to survive we must embrace change. I am ready to serve both Democrats and Republicans alike. District 99 is military and defense industry heavy. I understand and respect this as my father served in the Army and retired from Lockheed-Martin (General Dynamics). I have the utmost respect for our incumbent representative and if elected, plan to continue his tradition of excellent service to the community.

I invite you to visit my website, mimicoffeyfordistrict99.com for more information. I'm asking for your vote so that we can put PEOPLE OVER POLITICS. Feel free to text or call me direct at 817-205-4861.

Texas Revolution Veteran, Richard Bache, Jr. by Dr. Ken Bridges

When the United States became independent in 1776, Texas was far from the scene. However, one of the key figures of that era, Benjamin Franklin, still had an impact on Texas and its own independence decades later. Richard Bache, Jr., Franklin's grandson, fought in the Texas Revolution, served in the Texas navy, and served in the first sessions of the Texas State Senate.

Richard Bache, Jr., was born in Philadelphia in 1784. His father, Richard Bache, Sr., was the second postmaster general of the United States, following Benjamin Franklin in the position and serving in the midst of the American Revolution from 1776 to 1782. He had married Franklin's only daughter, Sarah, several years earlier and had eight children with her.

As a child, Bache had gotten to know his famous grandfather, who died in Philadelphia in 1790. His brothers and cousins achieved varying degrees of fame and success as engineers and publishers, following in their famous grandfather's footsteps in one way or another.

In 1798, he watched his older brother, Benjamin Franklin Bache, run afoul of the notorious Alien and Sedition Acts when his newspaper, the Aurora, printed articles critical of President John Adams. Unfortunately, he died before the case went to trial.

Bache attended Philadelphia schools and eventually enrolled at the University of Pennsylvania. He graduated in 1812 just before the War of 1812 erupted. Once this new war with Great Britain erupted, he organized a volunteer artillery unit. The Philadelphia-based Franklin Flying Artillery earned acclaim during the war, with Bache serving as captain. He also briefly served in the navy.

After the war ended, he served as postmaster of Philadelphia, serving from 1815 to 1828. It was this same position that his grandfather occupied from 1737 to 1753, making Bache part of the third generation in his family to serve as a postal executive.

Because of his family's reputation, Bache maintained close connections with politicians across Pennsylvania. In 1805, he married Sophia Dallas, the daughter of United States Attorney Alexander Dallas. Alexander Dallas rose to become Secretary of the Treasury under President James Madison in 1814, while his son George, the namesake for the present-day City of Dallas, became vice-president under President James K. Polk in 1845. The Baches' marriage produced nine children.

In 1832, Bache fled to Texas under a cloud of suspicion, leaving his family behind. The reasons were never clear. Some biographers suggested he fled debt collectors while others point to whispers of accusations that embezzlement had occurred at the Philadelphia post office during his tenure as postmaster. However, no charges of any illegal activity were ever filed.

He settled in the Brazoria area near modern-day Houston. When the Texas Revolution reached Southeast Texas in spring 1836, Bache joined the Louisiana Independent Volunteers to continue the fight. He was part of the San Jacinto campaign in April 1836 when Mexican Gen. Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna was captured in the aftermath. Gen. Sam Houston made him part of the group of soldiers guarding Santa Anna in the aftermath.

Under the administration of Texas President Mirabeau B. Lamar, the Texas navy was re-established. In 1838, Bache served as chief clerk for the new navy. With the purchase of the steamship Zavala, Bache dusted off his experience from the United States Navy and served Texas on the high seas on the new vessel.

In 1842, he moved to Galveston to serve as commissioner of the navy yard and as customs collector. Shortly afterward, he was elected a justice of the peace, a small-claims court judge, for Galveston County.

By 1845, the question of annexation to the United States again emerged. Many people in the United States and Texas alike were excited about the prospect of the merger. Bache was selected as a delegate to the Annexation Convention. However, Bache was in the minority and voted against annexation; but his reasons were more personal than political. As his grandfather had a falling out with his own parents and his own son throughout his life, Bache periodically would find himself at odds with members of his own family. After his brother-in-law, George Dallas, became vice-president, Bache soured on the idea of annexation because he did not want to give him a political victory.

Nevertheless, Bache was a delegate at the state constitutional convention and helped craft the first state constitution in 1845. He was also elected to the first session of the new Texas State Senate, representing the Galveston area. He continued to serve in the senate until his sudden death three years later.

His children went on to lead impressive lives of their own. His eldest son, Alexander Bache, was a noted scientist and led what later became known as the U.S. Geodetic Survey. Three of his daughters married men who had considerable achievements. One son-in-law became a congressman while another became Secretary of the Treasury while a third, Gen. William Emory was a noted surveyor along the border between Mexico and the United States.

Bache died in Austin in 1848 at age 64.

Why You Should Plan Ahead for the Upcoming Winter

Between the Russian invasion of Ukraine and sky-high oil and gas prices, a significant pellet fuel supply shortage is likely this winter season. Industry experts say you should plan ahead and secure your fuel now for the cold winter months. The good news is that, currently, there is plenty of supply to stock up.

As Tim Portz, executive director of the Pellet Fuels Institute explains, Russia is the second largest producer of wood pellets globally, supplying more than 2 million tons to global markets in 2020. But sanctions and restrictions due to the invasion of Ukraine have required U.S. pellet producers to fill the gap.

What’s more, the sticker shock Americans may experience this winter when reviewing their energy bills will likely have many switching to pellet heating in search of a better deal, and those with multiple heating options may start opting for pellets, putting extra demand on potentially short supplies.

“Wood pellet demand fluctuates year to year, however with heating oil, natural gas, electric and propane prices at near historic highs, we could see record sales of pellets in 2022-2023,” says Portz. “Consumers will need to be savvy. To ensure their annual supply is secured, they should stock up now.”

Wood pellets are used as primary or secondary space heat in more than 1 million homes nationwide. Pellets are a renewable, clean-burning fuel made from the waste streams generated by the manufacturers of products like dimensional lumber, hardwood flooring, wood pallets and cabinetry. Although supplies are strong right now, pellet producers are highlighting the importance of keeping inventory moving through the system.

With the capacity to produce more than 1 million tons of wood pellets each year, Lignetics Group, the largest residential wood pellet manufacturing company in the United States, notes that taking advantage of the surplus while it lasts will allow producers to run at full throttle and build inventory before usage begins to outpace production in the depths of winter.

Because pellets are competitively priced nationwide, consumers who opt for this method of heating will save hundreds of dollars over the course of a winter season compared to heating oil or propane, and thousands of dollars compared to electric heat.

“Many have already turned to wood pellet heating and many more are expected to do so amid the current energy crisis,” says Brett Jordan, CEO of Lignetics Group. “However, these consumers will need to take their wise choice a step further by being prepared. Fueling up now on your normal pellet supply will mean being able to take advantage of this sustainable and cost-efficient option all winter.”

NSDAR Holds Constitution Luncheon

The Fort Worth Chapter National Society Daughters of the American Revolution kicked off Constitution Week 2022 with a luncheon Saturday, Sept. 17 at Ridglea Country Club.

Over 100 ladies from DAR Chapters around the metroplex were in attendance. Other chapters present at the Constitution Luncheon were: Mary Isham Keith, Six Flags, Captain Nathaniel Mills, Lucretia Council Cochran, Captain Molly Corbin, Cross Timbers, Elizabeth Crockett, and Rebecca Boyce.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by the William Scott Society, Children of the American Revolution, and the Star-Spangled Banner was led by the very talented local artist, Dave Cave. A Certificate of Recognition from the City of Fort Worth recognizing Constitution Week was presented by Fort Worth Chapter Member, Jean Shiflett-Kenas. The featured speaker was DAR State Regent of Texas, Marcy Carter-Lovick, who spoke on “Women of the Constitution.”

Constitution Week brings attention to the history and importance of the Constitution while emphasizing citizens' responsibilities for protecting it. The week encourages the examination of historical events which led to the framing as well as informing people that the Constitution is the basis of our American way of life. The annually celebrated week offers a great opportunity to learn more about our history and the freedoms which stem from this document. Constitution Week runs from Sept. 17 through 23.

Any woman 18 years or older, regardless of race, religion or ethnic background, who can prove lineal descent from a Patriot of the American Revolution is eligible for membership in the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution.
